PROMOTING LIFELONG LEARNING

PROMOTING LIFELONG LEARNING OF ELDERLY WOMEN THROUGH THE UPGRADE OF ADULT EDUCATORS' METHODOLOGIES FOR INCLUSIVE, ACCESSIBLE AND PARTICIPATORY COMMUNITIES

MAIN AIM:

Aims to promote the upgrade of Adult Learning through the development of capacity-building training for educators, new tools and resources addressing the needs of elderly women (natives, migrants, refugees from war or conflict-affected regions or regions with high risk) to better integrate into their hosting communities while promoting inter-cultural competences, language learning and civic engagement.

TARGET GROUPS:

- Elderly women with migrant background 55+ years old
- Adult educators, social workers and volunteers
- Family members
- Adult centres

"Women shouldn't be afraid to put themselves forward."

e-Learning Platform

The TALES2SHARE consortium designed the e-Learning Platform, which hosts:

- The Professional Development Course for Adult Educators
- Assessment methodology with micro-credentials
- Competence Framework for migrant elderly women
- Handbook for Adult Educators
- E-Library with additional resources and good practices
- E-Digital Storytelling Map for the digital stories developed by elderly women
- E-Community for all users to exchange knowledge, ideas, etc.

Storytelling Cards

The StoryTelling cards are crafted to guide elderly women in exploring meaningful moments from their lives, whether about embracing change, building connections, or contributing to their community.

Each card presents a relatable situation with guiding questions to spark their memories and help shape their story. Whether they share a cultural tradition, reflect on personal growth, or celebrate the power of inclusion, your voice matters.
